

Letter from Gilbert Grosvenor to Alexander Graham Bell, from April 20, 1915, to April 22, 1915

National Geographic Society WASHINGTON, D.C. GILBERT H. GROSVENOR, Director and Editor April 22, 1915 Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, 1331 Connecticut Ave., Washington, D.C. Dear Dr. Bell:

Melville and all our family prized so highly the little telephone which the Company gave you so that you might give it to Melville, that I suggested to Mr. Carty that a similar telephone that could be handed Graham Fairchild would also be appreciated.

I am now sending you a letter from Mr. Carty and also a telephone which he has had made for you for Graham.

Very sincerely yours, Gilbert H. Grosvenor

PACKING SLIP FROM ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT AMERICAN TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY 15 DEY STREET, NEW YORK, N. Y. New York April 20 191 5
To Mr. Gilbert H. Grosvenor Company National Geographic Society City Washington D.C
Dear Sir:

In accordance with Mr. John J Carty letter to you dated April 20, 1915, the subject of which was Personal we send you herewith the following:—

No. of pkgs. or boxes	Contents
-----------------------	----------

1	pa Miniature telephone and case
---	---------------------------------